Science

Evolution & Inheritance

The children will learn how we inherit certain things from our parents; they will also consider how animals and other living things inherit things from their parents. The children will learn how all living things evolve in order to adapt to their environment as well as understanding the term 'survival of the fittest'. The children will use their investigation skills during this unit.

This term our theme is:

Ancient Maya & Evolution and Inheritance

History / Geography

The children will be learning about the Ancient Maya. They will learn about day-to-life, inventions, religion, sports. They will make links between the Ancient Maya and modern-day life. They will use a variety of resources to help develop their research skills.

Reading

The children should be reading daily and letting their teacher know via Dojo about how many pages they've read / a quick write up of what they've read / a video (or audio) of them reading etc...
The children should access ReadTheory a minimum of 3 times a week.
