Literacy information workshop

Wednesday 8th November 2023

3:15pm

Reading and writing are life skills that everyone should have the opportunity to learn.

Rick Coleman

Come and join us at our invaluable information workshop where we will share with you some of our resources that we will be using when teaching your child to read, and discuss with you how you can support at home. Even if you already have a child in school or have previously had a child in school, our reading and writing may be different to the way your older child was taught, so please attend if you are able.

During the 30 minute session we will talk you through our reading book and phonics scheme. We will also share more about the use of Class Dojo.

We hope you can all attend.
